

LX Version 9.0 Authorization Form

Dear Customer,

Congratulations! Your LX system is scheduled to receive a Version 9 software installation. This upgrade will include a change to the GRx user interface, pulse sequence revisions, changes to workflow in several applications, and multiple new system features.

This document has been provided to communicate important information regarding the changes and features included with the Version 9 FMI, and to share applications tips and suggestions you and your colleagues (including but not limited to other radiologists and technologists –RTs) will find helpful during the initial use of this new software.

It is strongly recommended that you and other radiologists and MR Technologists thoroughly review the accompanying information along with the Version 9 and ASP2 operator documentation included with the FMI kit prior to scheduling your software installation. Taking the time to review these materials in advance will ensure that you obtain optimal performance from your new software, and promote a smooth transition for you and your facility after the FMI installation.

Please complete this form and return it to your GE Field Engineer so it can be faxed to:
