

How to interpret the eService Note Numbering Scheme:

The number is the exact date and time the issue was determined to be important enough to distribute in an electronic Service Note.

The eService Note information eventually migrates into the documentation as future versions of the Service information is published.